Brick Technology Limited Mind your own Business!

Friday 15th April 2011

Dear Brick Technology,

I would like to take this opportunity and thank Brick for implementing our website. Brick have continuously supported us with all our web requirements and additionally played a huge part in assisting us with Search Engine Optimisation.

We had been with a couple of other web companies and always felt disappointed with what we were getting, but now we get pushed to do more news stories and do more work with the site which is a benefit.

One great bit of news I would like to thank brickweb for is getting to number one on google for an almost impossible basement conversion search term. There are thousands of other companies trying to do this but through Ken and Hannah pushing news stories and great new page titles we are now there congratulations I did not think you could do it but well done everybody there!

Brick have also supported us along each step of the way with their extensive training and expertise.

The back end of there web sites is probably the best thing about brickweb, being able to monitor and change things instantly is a major boost for us, and it is so easy to do.

We now have 5 web sites with brick with a new one ready to start.

Well done folks keep up the good work.

Wykamol highly recommend Brick Technology Limited.
